Step-1: Team Gathering, Collaboration and Select the Problem Statement

Our team gathered to discuss current challenges in real estate data analytics. We identified a common issue: the difficulty in interpreting housing market trends, especially how features like renovation, age, and size affect sales. After discussion, we finalized the following problem statement:

Problem Statement:

“To analyze and visualize key trends affecting housing sales prices and features using Tableau, enabling stakeholders to make informed pricing, renovation, and investment decisions.”

 Key rules of brainstorming

To run an smooth and productive session

-  Stay in topic.
-  Encourage wild ideas.
-  Defer judgment.
-  Listen to others.
-  Go for volume.
-  If possible, be visual.

Step-2: Brainstorm, Idea Listing and Grouping

During our brainstorming session, we explored the following ideas:

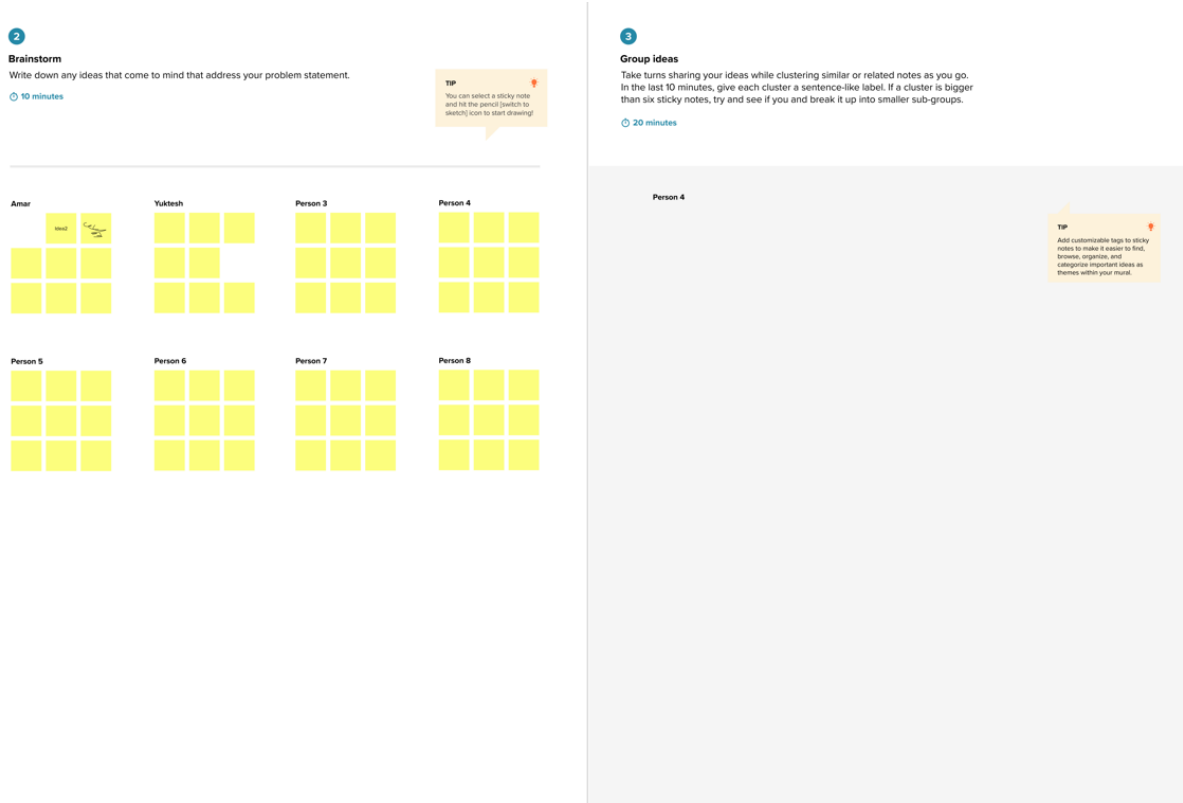

Raw Ideas:

- Compare total sales by years since renovation
- Show house age distribution based on number of bathrooms, bedrooms, and floors
- Visualize average sales price across various categories
- Show distribution of houses by renovation status
- Use a pie chart for house age + renovation split
- Use a histogram for price distribution
- Create a summary dashboard with key metrics
- Explore how renovation influences price and age

Grouped into Categories:

-  Housing Characteristics
 - Age of houses
 - Bedrooms, bathrooms, floors
 - Renovation status
-  Visualization Methods
 - Histogram for price bins
 - Pie chart for renovation & age
 - Grouped bar for features

- Summary overview dashboard
3.  Business Insights
- Impact of renovation on pricing
 - Market preferences based on house age
 - Sales trends over time

Step-3: Idea Prioritization

We used a simple prioritization method based on two criteria:

-  Value to stakeholders (executives, analysts, marketers)
-  Feasibility in Tableau

Top Prioritized Ideas:

1. Visualizing total sales by years since renovation
2. Pie chart showing house age distribution by renovation status
3. Grouped bar chart for house features vs. age
4. Overall dashboard showing key metrics (total sales, average price, total area)

These were selected as they provide high-impact insights using Tableau visualizations, aligned with business goals.
